

To: All SEVIS Users

Date: Dec. 20, 2017

Re: Download the December 2017 Edition of SEVP Spotlight

Number: 1712-04

General Information

The Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP) published its quarterly edition of SEVP Spotlight on Dec. 20, 2017.

In this latest edition, SEVP Director Rachel Canty discusses how the academic community and campus law enforcement can work together to enhance emergency planning. As experts on the international student process, Director Canty says designated school officials can offer campus law enforcement important insights on how emergencies may impact international students.

This edition also includes:

- Information about the upload evidence functionality that will launch in January 2018;
- An introduction to the newest SEVP field representatives;
- An update from SEVP's School Certification Unit; and
- Travel reminders for young international students.

For information and program updates from SEVP, download the December 2017 edition of SEVP Spotlight on Study in the States.

Comments

To comment on this Broadcast Message, please email SEVP@ice.dhs.gov with "Broadcast Message 1712-04 Comment" entered in the subject line.

Disclaimer

This Broadcast Message is not a substitute for applicable legal requirements, nor is it itself a rule or a final action by SEVP. It is not intended to, does not and may not be relied upon to create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by any party in any administrative, civil or criminal matter.